Judi Ann HOSTETTER

1994-1995 Griffis Art Center's International Artist-in-Residence
from Harrison, Tennessee, USA

"I once heard: 'I have always been amazed at what an artist can create even with the barest minimum of tools, i.e., a piece of paper, a scrap of canvas, a bit of graphite, ink or paint and a vision.' I echo these sentiments. I am always in awe of the leap from the white page to the final results.

"An artist dips his brush into his soul and paints patches of being, his values, his goals, loves and fears. I've held a pencil, brush, pen or charcoal in my hand nearly all of my life. I just have this inner drive to create, to express myself creatively, artistically."

"Judi Ann Hostetter is a full-time artist and instructor working from her studio, Brushworks, in Harrison, TN. She states..."My desire is to record bits of this wonderfully marvelous planet we live on because I am so deeply moved by the wonder of it all."

She is a colorist and a keen observer of human nature; an ability translated by subtle details in her watercolor paintings.
