

THE
GRIFFIS ART CENTER

ROGER W. DENNIS IMPRESSIONIST GARDEN
NEW LONDON, CONNECTICUT USA

Please enjoy

A Moment of Beauty from our Garden

Springtime - The intense, royal blue Siberian Squill (from Russia and Eurasia) covered many parts of our lawn the first week of April; and has been quickly replaced by the soft pastels of a Weeping Cherry, Ornamental Pear and stunning Magnolia.

The Roger W. Dennis Impressionist Garden was created in 1997 on the grounds of the Griffis Art Center to create pleasure and inspiration for the international artists visiting the United States.

To our delight, the Garden has also become a popular spot for our neighbors and the local school children; a place to study, to dream, to relax and most of all to enjoy.

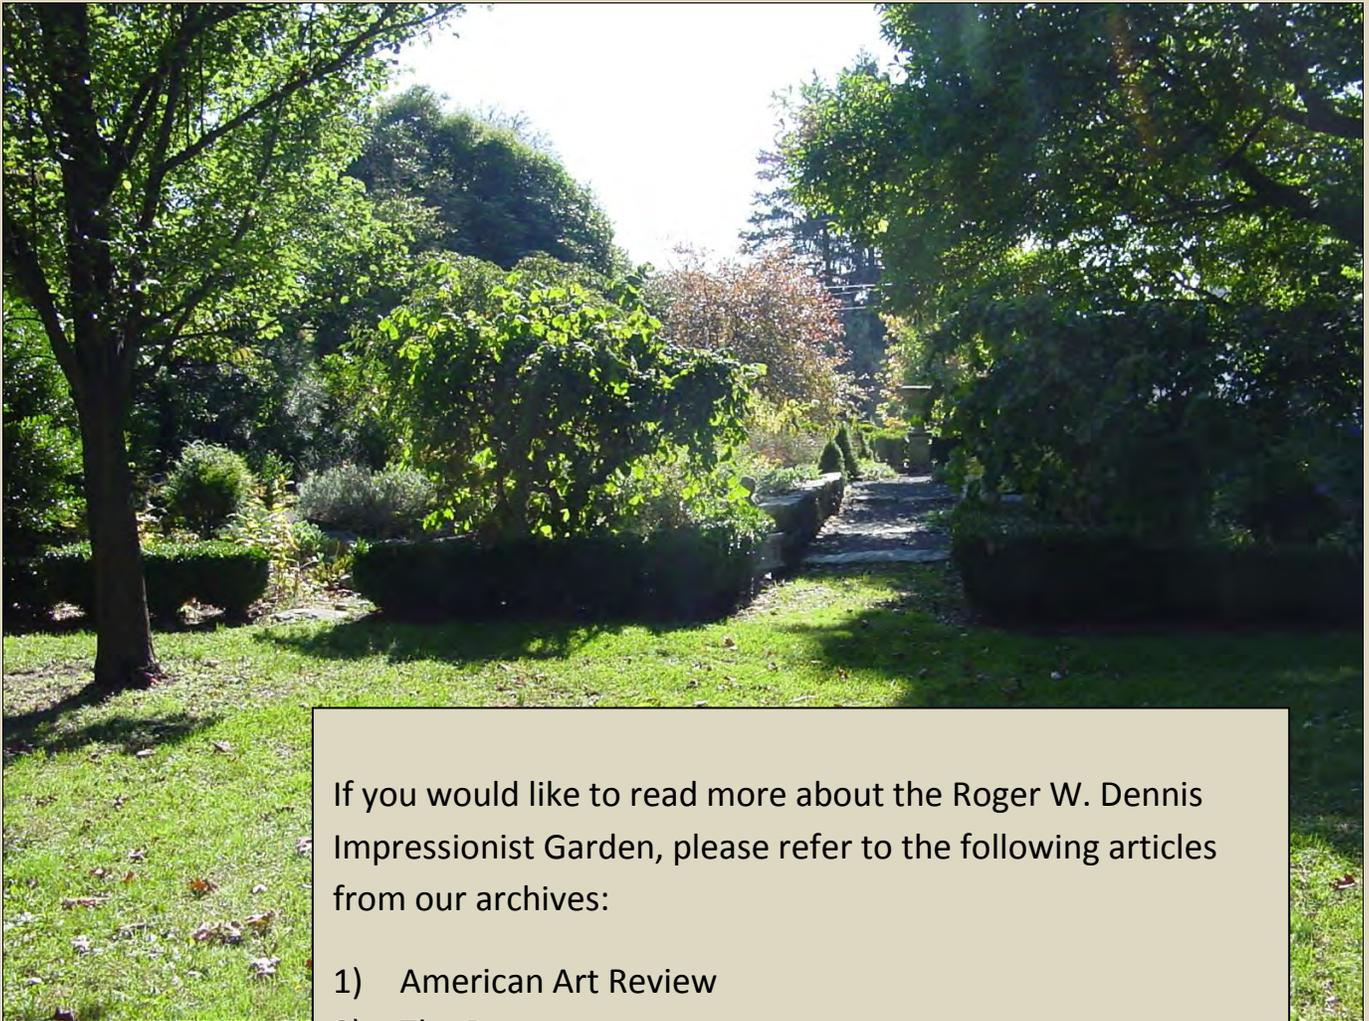

THE
GRIFFIS ART CENTER

ROGER W. DENNIS IMPRESSIONIST GARDEN
NEW LONDON, CONNECTICUT USA

Please enjoy

A Moment of Beauty from our Garden

If you would like to read more about the Roger W. Dennis Impressionist Garden, please refer to the following articles from our archives:

- 1) American Art Review
- 2) The Day
- 3) Antiques and The Arts Weekly
- 4) Lyme Art Association